RICHLAND COUNTY TREASURER DAVID A. ADAMS NAMED ASSOCIATION VICE PRESIDENT

(Columbia, SC) Yesterday, Richland County Treasurer David A. Adams was unanimously elected Vice President of the South Carolina Auditors Treasurers and Tax Collectors (SCATT) for the coming year.

For the last two years, Adams has served as Co-Chairman of SCATT's Legislative Committee. Last year, he successfully guided major changes to tax sale policies that SCATT had tried to pass for more than a decade through the South Carolina General Assembly. And this year, he is helping coordinate the Association's three-year effort to update property tax laws to reflect 21st Century practices at the state and local levels.

Previously, he was the co-chairman of the SCATT Continuing Education Committee and has served in various other roles in the organization since he became a member in 2003.

"I'm humbled that a group I respect so much has faith in me," Adams said. "SCATT is an amazing group of public servants who look for how to best serve the citizens of South Carolina, regardless of politics. I will do my best to honor and serve our common goals to make government work better for the people we represent."

His election to the Board makes him the first Richland County Official to be an officer of SCATT since 1998.
